

19th International Symposium on Advances in Extraction Technologies

Santiago de Compostela, Spain, 27-30 June 2017

<http://extech2017.es>

We are pleased to announce the 19th edition of ExTech, the International Symposium on Advances in Extraction Technologies, to be held at the University of Santiago de Compostela in June 2017. The ExTech symposium series is the flagship event for sample preparation, analytical extraction processes, and sample clean-up techniques. The series, started in 1999 by Prof. Janusz Pawliszyn (Canada), has been held annually around the world. ExTech has become a unique and vital platform for the exchange of information and ideas in the growing field of sample preparation. Contributions to ExTech2017 will be published in a special issue Elsevier journals.

MAIN TOPICS

Theoretical and fundamental aspects of extraction technologies • New extraction phases • New technologies and techniques • Sample preparation for direct introduction to MS • Direct Analysis in Real Time (DART) • Emerging contaminants and current issues • Environmental sampling. New devices and developments for passive sampling • Food control and analysis. Industrial applications • Foodomics • Natural products, flavor and fragrance analysis • Forensic analysis. Biological sample preparation • Sample preparation and analysis of pharmaceutical and personal care products • Biomedical applications. Diagnostic tools • Bioanalytical applications • Microfluidics/Lab-on-a-chip: new devices and techniques • New strategies and innovation for Genomics, Proteomics and Metabolomics • New developments in sensors and assays-Remote sensing • Automated analytical systems • Commercial developments and markets

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION FEES

	Before April 10th 2017	After April 10th 2017
